In response to ever increasing threat of terrorism, Gözen provides explosive detection services through the deployment of highly trained handlers and explosive detection dogs. As the first K9 security services provider within the aviation industry in Turkey, Gözen offers a tried, trusted and proven method of locating explosives in a wide range environments, from luggage screening to oversized, dense cargo and from aircraft to cargo warehouse searches, since 2006. This type of deployment is mobile, flexible, fast and cost effective besides provides consistent and reliable detection results that cannot be obtained by using current available screening methods. Our canine Explosive Detection Units (EDD) consists of K9 explosive detector dogs and their handlers, which are selected and trained in accordance with the EU (European Union) legislation and certified by Turkish National Police. Gözen K9 explosive detection dogs are eligible to detect most military, commercial and homemade explosives even the firearms.
